Having posted earlier this week concerning Edge Tech's 128GB DiskGO USB flash drive Edge Tech have been in contact with us to offer us a heads up concerning their new DiskGO Backup USB Flash Drive which comes bundled with Dmailer backup software and comes in capacities ranging from 1GB through to 16GB.

Joey Pomerence from Edge Tech told us:

"The new flash drives are a personal favorite of mine and really show the evolution of our DiskGO flash drive line. Roughly the size of a quarter, they are smaller and more portable than ever before while offering capacities up to 16GB! The coolest feature is however the Dmailer Backup: Dmailer Backup, powerful data backup software, comes standard on the drive.

Users can create an encrypted profile and set redundant file backups to the external hard drive; it is also possible to archive past versions of files as they become modified for access at a later time. Using Dmailer Backup, users can back up files to a personal online "cloud". Files stored in the cloud can be accessed from any computer connected to the Internet using a simple, search-engine style interface. Dmailer Backup requires no installation and is both Mac and PC compatible."

Edge Tech DiskGO Backup USB Flash Drive Key Features:

- Dmailer Software – Store, sync, and back up files to a personal online cloud
- Tiny Technology – Thin, small size allows for easy insertion and removal into inconveniently placed USB ports
- Portable Storage- Simple carrying and transfer from one PC to another
- Extremely Durable – Securely attached key ring makes transporting easy and helps prevent loss
- Plug & Play – Transfer Files via USB port on any PC or MAC
- Hot Swappable – Allows for quick and easy insertion and removal
- Warranty and Support – Lifetime warranty and toll-free technical assistance

The new Edge Tech DiskGO Backup USB Flash Drives have just been made available to pre-order with the heights (16GB) capacity variant coming in at just shy of a not unreasonable $60.
