

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dmailer Supplies SanDisk with Backup and Synchronization Software for Fourth Consecutive Year

Latest version of DmailerSync™ Plus includes real-time, remote email access and synchronization with Microsoft Outlook®, Outlook Express® and Outlook Web Access®.

LAS VEGAS, USA, International CES, January 8, 2007 – Dmailer, the leading provider of portable backup and synchronization software solutions for a range of mobile devices, today announced that it will supply SanDisk Corporation with powerful backup and synchronization software programs for its entire line of Cruzer USB portable flash drives worldwide. In particular, this will include the latest customized version of Dmailer's advanced flagship software, DmailerSync Plus.

This is the fourth consecutive year that Dmailer has supplied SanDisk, the world's largest supplier of flash memory data storage products, with backup and synchronization software.

DmailerSync Plus is a unique software application that allows users to backup, restore and synchronize all personal files (productivity documents, photos, audio and video files, etc.), computer settings (Internet Explorer and Firefox favorites, desktop wallpaper) as well as all data contained in Outlook or Outlook Express applications (email, attached documents, files, contacts, notes, tasks, calendar) merely by connecting any mobile storage device into a computer's USB port. This mobile storage device can be a USB flash drive, memory card, external hard disk drive, mp3 player, SIM card with memory or even a mobile phone.

Users can then plug their mobile storage device into any PC to access and edit files as if it was their own computer, even if Outlook or Outlook Express is not pre-installed on it. When finished, DmailerSync Plus synchronizes all changes back to a user's home or work computer as if they had never been away.

CruzerSync™ Version 7

DmailerSync Plus will continue to be bundled under SanDisk's CruzerSync brand name, which from January 2007, will offer a number of feature-rich enhancements. Significantly, the new Microsoft Windows Vista™ and Office 2007 compatible, CruzerSync Version 7, allows users to access and synchronize email remotely via their Microsoft Exchange Server (Outlook Web Access protocol support). Users also benefit from a new and more simplified, 'Six screens and Six clicks' set-up process, as well as a secure, embedded web search function.

ENDS

About Dmailer

Established in 2001 and located in Marseille, France, Dmailer (www.dmailer.com) is a privately held development and technology licensing company specializing in portable backup and synchronization software solutions for a range of mobile devices, including USB flash drives, memory cards, external hard disk drives, mp3 players, SIM cards with memory and mobile phones. The company's flagship product, DmailerSync Plus, is currently available in eight languages and is sold in almost 90 countries worldwide. Benefiting from a market that is showing strong growth, from innovative software technology and solid business relationships with worldwide OEM providers, the company is set to achieve significant and rising revenues over the coming years.

Contact Information

Dmailer

Anthony Reyes, Director of Business Development

Tel: +33.4.91.29.32.80

email: anthony@dmailer.com

Porter Novelli

Heidi Salon

Tel: +33.4.76.84.49.64

email: heidi.salon@porternovelli.fr

For more information on Dmailer and its products, please visit: www.dmailer.com